- <https://colombiacheck.com>. This is the national fact checking platform for Colombia.

- <https://linternaverde.co/como-pueden-prepararse-las-organizaciones-de-la-sociedad-civil-para-mitigar-el-impacto-de-la-desinformacion/>. Other blogs on that website are also very useful.

- <https://www.who.int/es/news-room/spotlight/let-s-flatten-the-infodemic-curve>. Although this is about the Covid 19 “infodemic”, it gives very good tips on how to identify fake news.

- <https://www.who.int/es/campaigns/connecting-the-world-to-combat-coronavirus/how-to-report-misinformation-online>. Also from the World Health Organization, on how to report fake news.

- https://www.ndi.org/sites/default/files/InfoManip%20Playbook%20Spanish_0.pdf. Especially pages 27 and 28, also on how to report disinformation.

- <https://es.unesco.org/news/jovenes-influenciadores-desafian-desinformacion-america-latina>. This is an initiative launched by UNESCO with young influencers from Latin American (4 from Colombia) in which they assess the lessons of disinformation and the influencers pledge to adhere to certain guidelines when sharing / posting content. It has some good tips: be calm, do not replicate anonymous data chains, check information with reliable sources and stop your friends if you see that they are feeding the cycle of disinformation.
